Mancini: We want Atletico in the Champions League The ex-Manchester City manager has not been overly impressed with the Premier League's official tournament which has been expanded to 32 teams following the 2009-10 season. And, although he doesn't expect Atletico to be in the competition next season, he has pleaded for the Spanish club to join the English club-based champions. "I think it's going to be 32 teams next season, but if they didn't put Atletico in I would be very disappointed," Mancini told Radio Monte Carlo. "Atletico are a big club. It's not just a dream - Atletico have been playing in the Champions League for years. They will always be a great club. "I don't know if they will be in the Champions League next year - it will depend on what happens with Barcelona. If they are in the Champions League, it will be a great opportunity for Atletico. "There are a lot of big names who can win the Champions League, but Atletico is a big club. You have to look at the way they have grown up with a lot of money and they deserve to be in the Champions League. It would be great for the football fans in Spain and in Europe."Q: Add new column to df1 with if statement I have a dataframe which is structured like the following (df1): IDA IDB 1 10 10 2 10 10 3 10 10 4 10 10 5 10 20 6 20 20 I have another dataframe which is structured like the following (df2): IDA IDB Z1 Z2 1 82157476af
